

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments

Notes on Contributors

Part I Essays

An Overview of Brazilian Law

Marçal Justen Filho

- 1 The constitutionalizing of Brazilian law
- 2 The organization of the Brazilian State
 - 2.1 Republic
 - 2.2 Federation
 - 2.3 The separation of powers
 - 2.4 The Public Ministry (“Ministério Público”) and the Courts of Accounts
 - 2.5 The role of the Courts of Accounts
- 3 The lack of Administrative Jurisdiction in Brazil
- 4 The universality of judicial review
- 5 Constitutional control
- 6 The principle of legality
- 7 Due process of law
- 8 Legislated law and the effectiveness of legal precedent
- 9 The non-application of the “common law - statutory law” dichotomy
- 10 The existence of an “Administrative Law”
- 11 The capitalist regime and free enterprise
- 12 The undertaking of economic activity by the government
- 13 The existence of public monopolies
- 14 The existence of public services
- 15 The delegation of public services to the private sector
- 16 The independent regulatory agencies
- 17 Contracts between the State and the private sector
- 18 The necessity of public procurement
- 19 The Union’s legislative power to regulate public procurement

Control of the Independent Regulatory Agencies

Alexandre Wagner Nester

- 1 Introduction: the paradigm shift of the State’s economic activity
- 2 The independent regulatory agencies, their characteristics and political autonomy
- 3 The control over the independent regulatory agencies’ activities
 - 3.1 Social control
 - 3.2 Political control
 - 3.3 Economic and financial control
 - 3.4 Control through management contracts
 - 3.5 Control resulting from due legal process
 - 3.6 The Public Ministry control
 - 3.7 Judicial review
- 4 Conclusion

Administrative Procedure and the Independent Regulatory Agencies

André Guskow Cardoso

- 1 Introduction

- 1.1 The emergence of independent regulatory agencies in Brazilian law
- 1.2 The independent agencies introduced in Brazilian law and the regulated sectors
- 1.3 The concentration of State powers under the independent regulatory agencies
- 2 The growing submission of State activity to procedural forms
 - 2.1 Procedure as a means to control Public Administration activity
 - 2.2 Procedure as a means to ensure broad participation of those who will be affected by Public Administration performance
- 3 The role of Brazilian independent regulatory agencies
 - 3.1 The different forms of performance of the independent regulatory agencies
 - 3.1.1 Enforcement of regulatory rules
 - 3.1.2 Rulemaking
 - 3.1.3 Adjudication
 - 3.2 Consequences on the administrative procedure to be adopted
- 4 Administrative procedure and independent regulatory agencies
 - 4.1 Constitutional provisions
 - 4.2 Law n. 9.784/1999 provisions
 - 4.3 The various provisions in the agencies' internal acts
 - 4.4 Common notes to the administrative procedure in the major independent regulatory agencies
 - 4.4.1 Rulemaking procedure
 - 4.4.2 The administrative procedure for imposing sanctions
 - 4.4.3 Administrative procedure for dispute resolution
 - 4.4.4 The administrative procedure for adjudication

Rulemaking Power of Independent Regulatory Agencies in Brazil

Diogo Albaneze Gomes Ribeiro

- 1 Independent regulatory agencies
- 2 The regulatory competence in the Brazilian law
- 3 The regulatory competence of the independent regulatory agencies in Brazilian law
- 4 Examples of rulemaking activity of independent regulatory agencies
- 5 The limits of the rulemaking power of independent regulatory agencies in different sectors
- 6 The control of the regulatory agencies normative acts
 - 6.1 The Judiciary's control
 - 6.2 The control through the legislative power
- 7 The conflict between the norms of independent regulatory agencies with those of other agencies or sectors

Competition Law Enforcement in Regulated Sectors

Marçal Justen Neto

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Competition law enforcement by independent regulatory agencies
- 3 Competition law enforcement by antitrust authorities
- 4 Limits and exemptions from competition law enforcement in regulated sectors
- 5 Competition law enforcement in regulated sectors
 - 5.1 Telecommunications
 - 5.2 Electricity
 - 5.3 Oil, gas and biofuels
 - 5.4 Health
 - 5.5 Transportation
 - 5.6 Civil aviation
 - 5.7 Banking

6 Public procurement and competition

Public Procurement: General Rules

Cesar A. Guimarães Pereira

- 1 Constitutional basis
- 2 Applicable rules
- 3 Auditing bodies: the importance of TCU
- 4 Coverage
- 5 Principles and purposes
- 6 Methods, thresholds and publicity
- 7 Single-source procurement: direct award
- 8 Types of bidding: evaluation criteria
- 9 Standard procedure (sealed competitive bidding)
- 10 Qualification phase
- 11 Evaluation (judgment) phase
- 12 Award and execution of the contract
- 13 Fraud and penalties
- 14 Specific topics
 - 14.1 Purchases and price registration
 - 14.2 Pre-qualification (shortlist stage)
 - 14.3 Small companies (Complementary Law n. 123/2006)
 - 14.4 Biddings for the 2016 Rio Olympics
 - 14.5 "Buy national" (PPM n. 495)

Reverse Auction as a Method of Public Procurement

Ana Lucia Ikenaga, Mayara Ruski Augusto Sá, Thalita Bizerril Duleba Mendes

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Outline of the reverse auction (pregão)
- 3 Applicability
- 4 Application of general rules of public procurement
- 5 Types of reverse auction
- 6 Procedure of the common reverse auction
 - 6.1 The role of government official
 - 6.2 Invitation for bids
 - 6.3 Public session
 - 6.3.1 Registration
 - 6.3.2 Declaration of knowledge
 - 6.3.3 Envelopes
 - 6.3.4 Opening of proposal envelopes
 - 6.3.5 First ranking
 - 6.3.6 The minutes of the auction
 - 6.3.7 Bidding phase
 - 6.3.8 Second temporary ranking
 - 6.3.9 Judging the bidders qualification
 - 6.3.10 Presentation of samples and their evaluation
 - 6.3.11 Disqualification
 - 6.3.12 Final ranking of the bids
 - 6.4 Administrative appeal or protest
- 7 Procedure in online reverse auction
 - 7.1 Registration
 - 7.2 Invitation for bids
 - 7.3 Submission of proposals
 - 7.4 Virtual public session

- 7.4.1 Bidding phase
- 7.4.2 Disconnections
- 7.4.3 Ending the bidding phase
- 7.5 Appeals or protests
- 8 The participation of international bidders
- 9 The advantages and disadvantages of reverse auction
 - 9.1 Advantages of reverse auction
 - 9.2 Disadvantages of reverse auction

Public Procurement Financed by International Agencies in Brazil

Rafael Wallbach Schwind

- 1 Introduction
- 2 The importance of this issue
- 3 The regime under Law n. 8.666
- 4 The prerequisites for the application of article 42, 5th paragraph, Law n. 8.666
 - 4.1 First prerequisite: existence of funds necessarily of foreign origin
 - 4.2 Second prerequisite: imposition of removal of Brazilian law as a condition for granting or donating funds
 - 4.3 Obligation of demonstrating the presence of the two prerequisites
- 5 The content of modifications that can be admitted
 - 5.1 Obligation to respect the fundamental principles of public procurement
 - 5.2 Objective definition of the rules that will guide the bidding
 - 5.3 Case studies
- 6 The effective participation of the international agency
- 7 Specific rules

The System of Protests and Appeals in Brazilian Public Biddings Law

William Romero

- 1 Introduction
- 2 The challenge to the Invitation for Bids (IFB): article 41, 1st and 2nd paragraphs, Law n. 8.666
- 3 Appeals to be brought by bidders against decisions made during the bidding procedure: article 109, I, Law n. 8.666
- 4 Representation to the Court of Accounts: article 113, 1st paragraph, Law n. 8.666
- 5 Protests under the basic policy on procurement and contracting of IDB (Inter-American Development Bank) and of IBRD (World Bank)
- 6 Conclusion

Public Procurement by State Governments

Dina Oliveira de Castro Alves

- 1 The Federative Republic of Brazil: vertical division of the legislative competence
- 2 Concurrent competences in public biddings and administrative contracts
 - 2.1 The scope of the term general rules
 - 2.2 The supplementary competence of the States
- 3 The State exercise of supplementary competence: case studies
- 4 Conclusion

Government Contracts in Brazilian Law

Aline Lícia Klein, Guilherme Fredherico Dias Reisdorfer, Karlin Olbertz

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Public contracts and private contracts
 - 2.1 Public contracts and private contracts under Brazilian law
 - 2.2 The scope of government contracts

- 2.3 Administrative contracts
 - 3 The creation of the administrative contract
 - 3.1 Planning the contract
 - 3.2 Choosing the most advantageous contract
 - 3.3 The contract's formalities and content
 - 4 The State's powers and the private party's rights in the performance of government contracts
 - 4.1 The basic benchmarks of the contract's execution
 - 4.2 The administrative contract's system of execution
 - 4.2.1 The execution of private law contracts
 - 4.2.2 The execution of administrative contracts in the strict sense (governed by public law)
 - 4.2.2.1 Unilateral modification of the contract (jus variandi)
 - 4.2.2.2 Supervision and sanctioning of the contracted private party
 - 4.2.2.3 The temporary provisional overtaking of human and material resources
 - 4.2.2.4 Stay on the contract's execution
 - 4.2.3 The possibility of subcontracting and the assignment of contract
 - 4.2.4 Reception of the contracted object and the private party's liability
 - 5 The guarantee of the economic-financial balance of administrative contracts
 - 5.1 The guarantee's legal provision
 - 5.2 The moment in which the relation between costs and benefits is established
 - 5.3 Prerequisites of the right to restore the contract's balance
 - 5.4 The lack of discretion in rebalancing the contract's equation
 - 5.5 The extension of the restoration of the balance
 - 5.6 Mechanisms for the restoration of the economic-financial balance
 - 6 Termination of administrative contracts
 - 6.1 Normal termination
 - 6.2 Abnormal termination
 - 6.2.1 Causes that lead to the contract's rescission
 - 6.2.1.1 Rescission due to reasons attributed to the private contractor
 - 6.2.1.2 Rescission due to reasons attributed to the Administration
 - 6.2.1.3. Rescission due to reasons not attributable to any of the parties
 - 6.2.2. Types of rescission
 - 6.2.2.1 Rescission due to the Administration's unilateral act
 - 6.2.2.2 Out of court rescission
 - 6.2.2.3 Judicial rescission
 - 6.2.2.4 Rescission by the resolve of bodies of control
 - 6.2.3 The need for a due administrative procedure
 - 6.2.4 Damages award due to the contract's rescission
 - 6.2.5 The contract's annulment

Concessions of Public Service

Cesar A. Guimarães Pereira

- 1 Introduction
 - 1.1 Administrative law in Brazil
 - 1.2 Public services
 - 1.3 Direct and indirect provision of public services
 - 1.4 Concessions and PPP
- 2 Concession of public services as one of many forms of service provision
- 3 Features of the concession agreement
- 4 A trilateral legal bond
- 5 Prior public bidding
- 6 Adequate service

- 7 Allocation of risk and protection of the economic and financial balance
- 8 Remuneration of the concessionaire
- 9 Reversible assets
- 10 End of the concession
- 11 Arbitration

Public-Private Partnerships (PPP) in Brazil

Fernão Justen de Oliveira

- 1 Introduction
- 2 The modalities of the Brazilian PPP
- 3 The legal feasibility of the PPP: the requirements of the Brazilian law
- 4 The economic feasibility of the PPP: the attractiveness of the project
- 5 The remuneration of the PPP concessionaire
- 6 The special guarantees for the PPP concessionaire
- 7 Arbitration in the Brazilian PPP
- 8 Conclusion

Enforcement of Pecuniary Credits against State Parties

Eduardo Talamini

- 1 Constitutional regulation
 - 1.1 Sequence of preference
 - 1.2 Seizure
 - 1.3 Credits of alimonious nature
 - 1.4 Moment of payment and monetary correction
 - 1.5 Credit of "small amount": dispense from precatory writ
 - 1.6 Offset by credits withheld by the debtor Public Treasury
 - 1.7 The use of precatory writs to acquire real property
 - 1.8 Credit assignment
 - 1.9 Debt assumption by the Federal Government
- 2 Instruments that enable enforcement against the Public Treasury
- 3 Non-feasibility of provisional enforcement
- 4 Procedure
 - 4.1 Bringing suit
 - 4.2 Service of process
 - 4.3 Motions to stay enforcement
 - 4.4 Request for payment
 - 4.5 Payment
- 5 The apportionment imposed by article 78 of the Temporary Constitutional Provisions Act – TCPA (Constitutional Amendment n. 30/2000)
- 6 The special regulation of precatory writs (article 100, 15th paragraph, FC; and article 97, TCPA – CA n. 62/2009)
 - 6.1 Description of the regulation provisioned in the article 97, TCPA
 - 6.2 Unconstitutionality of the special regulation

Brazil in the Context of International Arbitration

Mauricio Gomm Santos, Quinn Smith

- 1 Dramatic changes in short order: the recent history of arbitration in Brazil
- 2 Passage and adoption of new arbitration laws: Brazil sets the stage for the growth of arbitration
- 3 Increased judicial acceptance of arbitration: the rise of the STJ
 - 3.1 Review of STJ decisions on private commercial matters
 - 3.2 Analysis of decisions involving state-owned entities
 - 3.3 Summary of court attitudes towards arbitration

- 3.4 The effect of the STJ's current jurisprudence
- 4 Development of competent and reliable regional institutions: arbitration takes hold for domestic matters and begins to spread internationally
- 5 Growing expertise: Brazil's practitioners, scholars, arbitrators, and students join the international club
- 6 International recognition and assertion of power: gaining the attention of the world and making a statement internationally
- 7 Conclusion

Arbitration in Brazil

Felipe Scripes Wladeck, Paulo Osternack Amaral

- 1 Arbitration
 - 1.1 Initial considerations
 - 1.2 Arbitrability
 - 1.2.1 Objective requirements
 - 1.2.2 Subjective requirements
- 2 How to establish arbitration in Brazil
 - 2.1 Submission agreement and arbitration clause
 - 2.2 The sufficiency of the arbitration clause and its specific execution
 - 2.3 The courts' position on the sufficiency of the arbitration clause
 - 2.4 The arbitration clause's autonomy
- 3 The arbitrators
 - 3.1 Equivalence between arbitrators and State judges
 - 3.2 Relation between arbitrators and State judges
 - 3.3 The arbitrator's appointment
 - 3.4 The arbitrator's duties
- 4 Arbitration in administrative contracts
 - 4.1 Application and legal authorization
 - 4.2 Procedural aspects
 - 4.3 Limits: respect to publicity and legality
 - 4.4 The legislative and case law inclination: the suitability of arbitration to solve disputes stemmed from administrative contracts
- 5 The arbitral procedure
- 6 The arbitral award and the means for its review
 - 6.1 The structure, effects and autonomy of the arbitral award
 - 6.2 The application of appeal requesting the clarification of the arbitral award
 - 6.3 The judicial review of the arbitral award
 - 6.3.1 Judicial review of foreign arbitral awards
 - 6.3.2 Judicial review of national arbitral awards
 - 6.3.3 The courts' current inclination: the respect for arbitration
- 7 Brazil's adoption of the New York Convention

Recognition of Foreign Judgments and Awards

Cesar A. Guimarães Pereira

- 1 Legal environment
- 2 Arbitral awards
- 3 Enforcement of judgments and arbitral awards
- 4 Enforcement of domestic awards
 - 4.1 Competent court
 - 4.2 Procedure (highlights)
 - 4.3 Grounds for objecting enforcement
- 5 Legal definition of an international arbitral award
- 6 Recognition of international awards

- 6.1 Constitutional requirement
- 6.2 Procedure
 - 6.2.1 Requirements to grant recognition
 - 6.2.2 Grounds to deny recognition
- 7 Enforcement of recognized awards
 - 7.1 Competent local federal court
 - 7.2 Pre-enforcement measures
 - 7.3 Disputes concerning the legal status of a recognized award
 - 7.4 Consequence: latitude of the grounds to object enforcement
 - 7.5 Analysis of the case law

PART II

Bilingual Versions of Relevant Statutes

Brazilian Federal Constitution – Excerpts

Law n. 8.666/1993 (Biddings and government contracts)

PPM n. 495/2010 (“Buy National” preferences in biddings)

Law n. 10.520/2002 (Reverse auction)

Law n. 8.987/1995 (Concessions of Public Services)

Law n. 9.074 of 1995 (Concessions of Public Services) – Excerpts

Law n. 11.079 of 2004 (Public-Private Partnerships – PPP) – Excerpts

Code of Civil Procedure of 1973 – Excerpts

Law n. 9.307/1996 (Arbitration)

Resolution STJ n. 9/2005 (Recognition of Foreign Judgments)

PART III

Additional Reference Material

Reference material

List of relevant legislation for infrastructure projects

List of reference websites

Glossary